Chairman's REMARK

In 2023, the Nigerian health sector encountered a wave of significant challenges, including the emergence of diseases such as diphtheria, anthrax, and dengue fever. Additionally, the migration of health workers to foreign countries, inadequate funding for healthcare development projects, the departure of major global pharmaceutical companies from Nigeria, and a notable increase in the prices of essential drugs further compounded the issues faced by the sector.

As a result, Nigerians have become acutely aware of the necessity for access to functional, affordable, and reliable healthcare systems. Families are increasingly seeking healthcare options that offer security and protection, shielding them and their loved ones from avoidable tragedies. Recognising the urgency for intervention, PSHAN took decisive action by investing significantly to facilitate the revitalisation of Primary Healthcare Centres (PHCs) nationwide. These strategic investments were aimed at addressing the root causes of the sector's challenges and ensuring that communities across Nigeria have access to essential healthcare services close to home.

PSHAN has also made significant strides in health policy and advocacy, quality programme implementation, research, and development, while also building strategic alliances and key partnerships. Notable partnerships include collaboration with the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation (BMGF) and strategic partnership with MTN Foundation through the Adopt a Healthcare Facility Programme (ADHFP). Formal agreements with the governments of Rivers State and Edo State have solidified commitments to grassroot healthcare development.

As we reflect on the challenges of 2023, we are reminded of the importance of collective action and collaboration in overcoming obstacles to healthcare delivery. PSHAN remains steadfast in its commitment to driving positive change in the Nigerian health sector, empowering communities, and fostering a future where no individual is left behind in the pursuit of better health outcomes. Together, we can build a healthier Nigeria for generations to come.

Thank you.

IMPACT PROGRAMMES

VACCINE HESITANCY AND ASSESSMENT IN NIGERIA (VHAN) PROJECT- ENDLINE IMPLEMENTATION

PSHAN received funding from Sanofi to conduct implementation research into key vaccine hesitancy factors in our collaborative efforts to improve vaccine uptake in Nigeria, especially as vaccine hesitancy continues to be the greatest threat to global health in old and recent times., this was completed, and the findings disseminated via the various platforms that PSHAN has. This study used the COVID-19 vaccine as an entry point to assess factors affecting the uptake other childhood routine immunizations in Kano, FCT and Lagos.

The finding highlighted a crucial gap in disseminating information about vaccination locations, indicating a need for improved communication channels for information sharing. At baseline, intent to be vaccinated was encouraging at 66.4%, a significant increase to 82.7% at the end line indicating a positive impact on the SBCC intervention. This calls for intensified campaigns to ensure well-informed and positive community perception thereby increasing vaccine uptake.

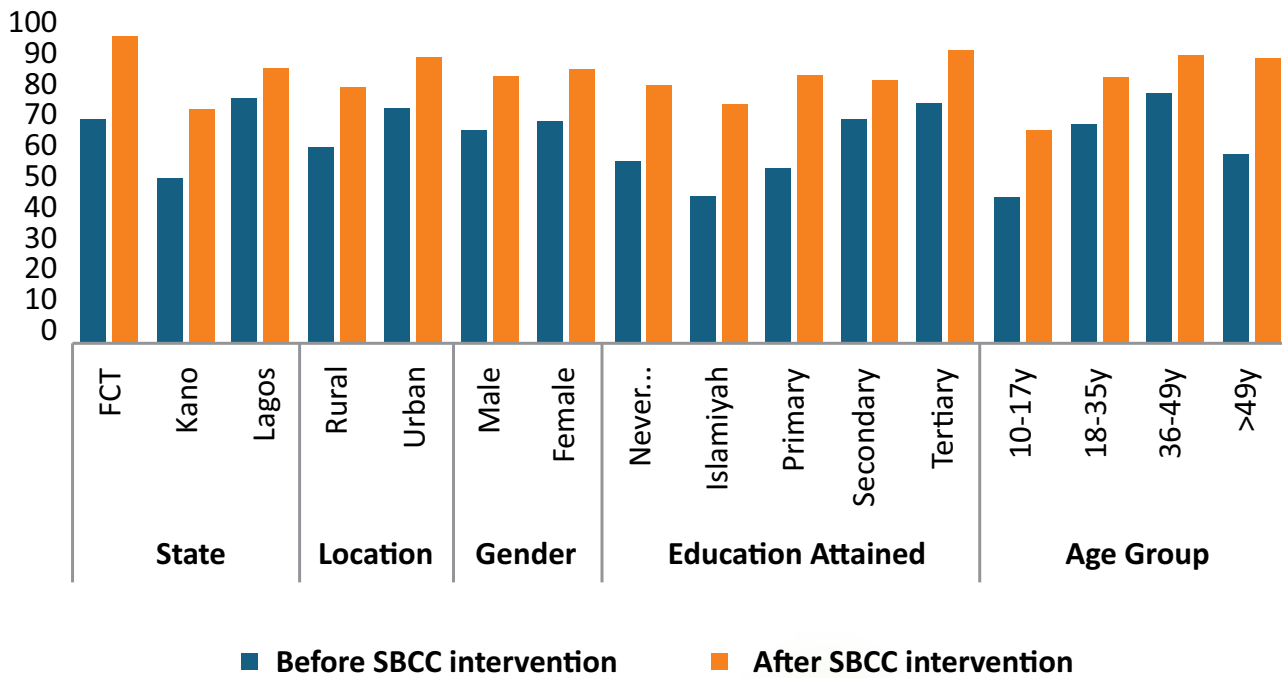

RESPONDENTS' PERCEPTION

Comparing baseline and end-line, there was an increase in respondents' perception across the different domains with intent to vaccinate recording a significant increase (16.3%) at the end of the SBCC intervention.

INTENT TO VACCINATE BY RESPONDENTS SOCIODEMOGRAPHICS

The results show overall that 82.7% of respondents expressed the intention to vaccinate after the intervention compared with 66.4% at the baseline survey. In the FCT, the proportion of respondents with the intention to be vaccinated increased from 68.3% at baseline to 93.1%, the proportion of respondents in Kano state increased from 50.3% to 71.5%, and in Lagos state, the increase was from 74.8% to 83.2%. Results also show that among gender the proportion of respondents with the intention to vaccinate increased from 64.6% among males to 80.6% and 67.3% to 83.6% among female respondents. This increase in the proportion of respondents to vaccinate cuts across all respondents' demographic characteristics including location, age group, and level of educational attainment etc.

VHAN SIGN OFF CEREMONY

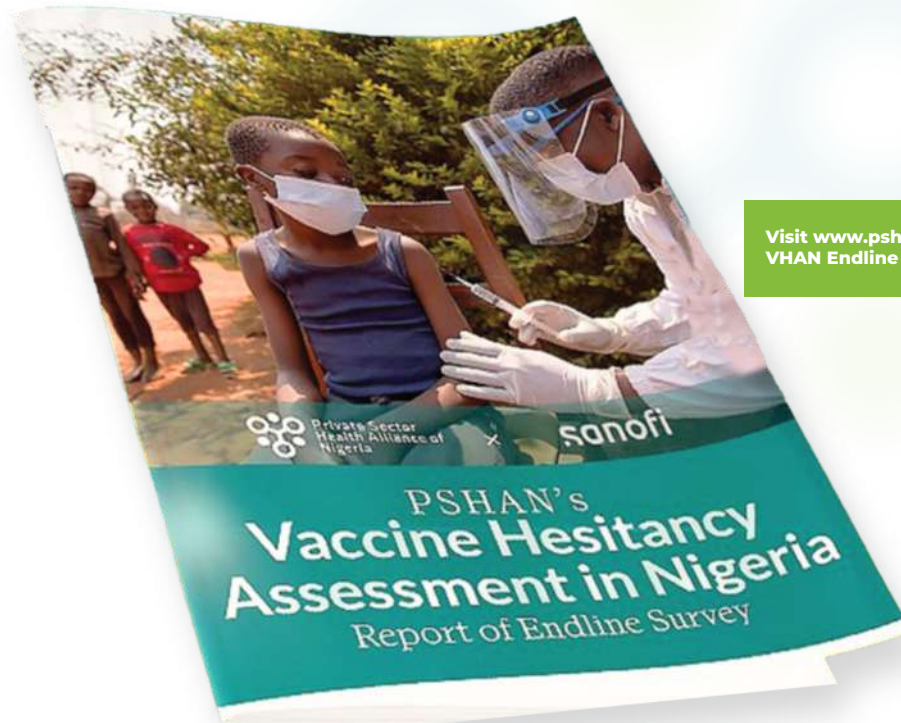

L-R: Wale Akinbowale (Acting General Manager, SANOFI), Obinna Chukwudebe (Immunization Policy Manager, SANOFI), Dr Tinuola Akinbolagbe (Chief Executive Officer, PSHAN), Ota Akhigbe (Head Memberships & Partnerships, PSHAN), Olalekan Alabi (Head of Business Operations, SANOFI), Uzo Amatokwu (Head Regulatory Affairs, SANOFI)

The need to base COVID-19 vaccination programs, policies and interventions on up-to-date information gave rise to the COVID-19 Vaccine Hesitancy Assessment in Nigeria (C19-VHAN) study. The COVID-19 Vaccine Hesitancy Assessment in Nigeria (C19-VHAN) study seeks to understand the drivers and barriers to COVID-19 vaccination uptake among Nigerians.

Our intention is for the results of the study to inform policymakers decisions to upscale and deploy COVID-19 and other vaccination campaigns. The C-19 VHAN study is a spin-off of PSHAN's Alliance for Epidemic Preparedness and Response (A4EPR) project targeted at strengthening epidemic response in Nigeria. The Private Sector Health Alliance of Nigeria (PSHAN) represented by Dr. Tinuola Akinbolagbe, CEO, PSHAN and SANOFI represented by Uzo Amatokwu, Head Regulatory Affairs SANOFI, signed an agreement to conduct a COVID-19 Vaccine Hesitancy Assessment in Nigeria (C19-VHAN) on Monday the 26th of September 2022.

The 10-month study, which would be conducted in one state in each of the country's geopolitical zones, would assess and analyze the various vaccine hesitancy factors in Nigeria and provide objective data that could be used to have a firmer grasp on what is needed to handle pandemic-level crisis going forward.

SHAPING EQUITABLE MARKETS ACCESS (SEMA) FOR REPRODUCTIVE HEALTH PROJECT

PSHAN was also funded by AMREF as a member of a consortium through its partnership with SEMA's Reproductive Health Innovative Partnership in Nigeria to implement the SEMA project in Nigeria. This was a multi country project in Nigeria, Senegal, and Burkina Faso. PSHAN's focus was Osun state in the five states for Nigeria to transform sexual and reproductive health markets so that people everywhere have sustained access to comprehensive quality and affordable SRH services.

This was done through a sequential exploratory design that incorporated desk reviews, key informant interviews, and focus group discussions, the SRH market landscape was assessed using the SEMA's Healthy Markets Framework (HMF) tool. The project facilitated open dialogue on SRH commodities and services, fostering collaboration and addressing critical issues in the state.

This concerted effort provided a clear and evidence-based understanding of the challenges at hand, allowing for focused interventions that directly address the most pressing needs of the community.

IMPACT OF THE ADOPT-A-HEALTHCARE FACILITY PROGRAMME (ADHFP) AT PILOT FACILITIES.

Primary Health Care (PHC) provides the most viable route towards achieving health related sustainable development goals (SDGs) and is crucial to the achievement of other SDGs. Primary Health Care is defined as a whole-of-society approach to health and well-being based on the needs, peculiarities and preferences of individuals, families and communities. (WHO, 2019). PHC serves as the first contact of individuals, families and communities with the national health system. Accessibility to and closeness to the poor and hard to reach populace makes the primary health care system the most relevant, unique and important in the three-tier health system in Nigeria.

This is the foundation of the Adopt a health care facility project that made investment in the primary health care sector in Nigeria. Through these investments, significant impact is being made across the several facilities. At Jumberi PHC, the annual OPD attendance grew by 140% and number of fully immunized children increased by 11%. Antenatal care (ANC) utilization and number of births attended by skilled professional increased by 122% and 80% respectively.

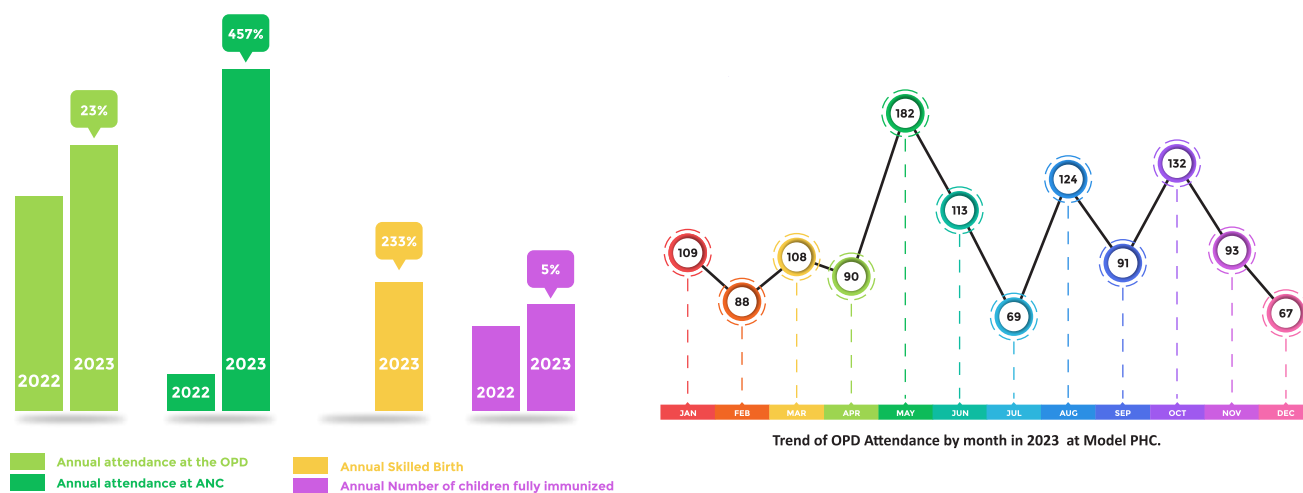

HEALTHCARE SERVICE PERFORMANCE COMPARISON: BASELINE 2022 VS. 2023 ACHIEVEMENT AT JUMBERI PHC

At Model PHC, Boji Boji Agbor, currently, the number of pregnant women accessing ANC services increased by 457%, while the number of births attended by skilled health professional increased by 233% as compared to the baseline in 2022 when annual OPD attendance, ANC, Skilled birth and number of children fully immunized were 1033, 96, 15 and 884 respectively.

HEALTHCARE SERVICE PERFORMANCE COMPARISON: BASELINE 2022 VS. 2023 ACHIEVEMENT AT MODEL PHC

A comparative analysis of the overall OPD attendance across the ADHFP pilot facilities in 2023 (4,765) and the baseline in 2022 (2,492) shows a 91% increase in the OPD attendance. There was also a remarkable 832% increase Antenatal Care (ANC) utilization. A total of 258 pregnant women registered for ANC services in 2022 which increased to 895 in 2023. These indicators demonstrate improved access to basic healthcare services, a fundamental component of achieving Universal Healthcare Coverage (UHC).

BILL AND MELINDA GATE FOUNDATION (BMGF) FAMILY PLANNING (FP) SCOPING MISSION PROJECT

The Private Sector Health Alliance of Nigeria received funding by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation (BMGF) to embark on a scoping mission on financing family planning commodities in Lagos, Kano, Kaduna, Nasarawa, and Bauchi states in Nigeria. The project aimed to identify and recommend successful public-private financing models in Nigeria that have potential for scalability by the BMGF in 2023/2024.

Achieving Nigeria's FP goals and ensuring long-term commodity security down to the “last mile” requires a strong partnership between the public and private sectors as well as innovative and sustainable implementation and funding mechanisms to bridge current gaps. While implementing this project, a national stakeholder meeting to validate the findings from the field brought together multiple stakeholders at national, subnational and private sector including donor organizations. The project which will be concluded in the first quarter of this year will be making recommendations to be potentially funded that will ensure an improvement in the mean contraceptive prevalence in Nigeria to support the FP2030 target.

About ADHFP

The Adopt-A-Healthcare Facility Programme (ADHFP) stands as a testament to our commitment to revolutionising healthcare access and affordability across communities in Nigeria. Conceived with a visionary goal in mind, ADHFP seeks to adopt and standardise at least one Primary Healthcare Centre (PHC) in each of the 774 Local Government Areas (LGAs) nationwide.

At its core, ADHFP aims to directly benefit the people of Nigeria by enhancing access to essential healthcare services while simultaneously addressing critical health challenges such as maternal and infant mortality, and the prevalence of communicable diseases such as tuberculosis, malaria, pneumonia, and diarrhoea. Through the standardisation of PHCs, we envision a transformed health system at the grassroots level, characterised by strengthened health information systems, enhanced service delivery, sustainable financing mechanisms, and bolstered governance capacity.

Aigboje Aig-Imoukhuede

ADHFP is not merely about infrastructure; it is about empowering communities and promoting a culture of health and well-being. Through innovative funding mechanisms and strategic stakeholder engagement, we hope to cultivate a sense of ownership and responsibility among all stakeholders, from government bodies to local communities, ensuring sustainable, long-term impact.

Central to the initiative is our commitment to introducing standard quality care, empowering service users, and harnessing the collective efforts of various stakeholders to drive positive change.

Ultimately, ADHFP is more than just a programme; it embodies our collective vision for a healthier, more resilient Nigeria. By providing essential medical care and healthcare attention to every Local Government Area (LGA), we strive to build a future where equitable access to healthcare is not just a privilege but a fundamental right for all Nigerians.

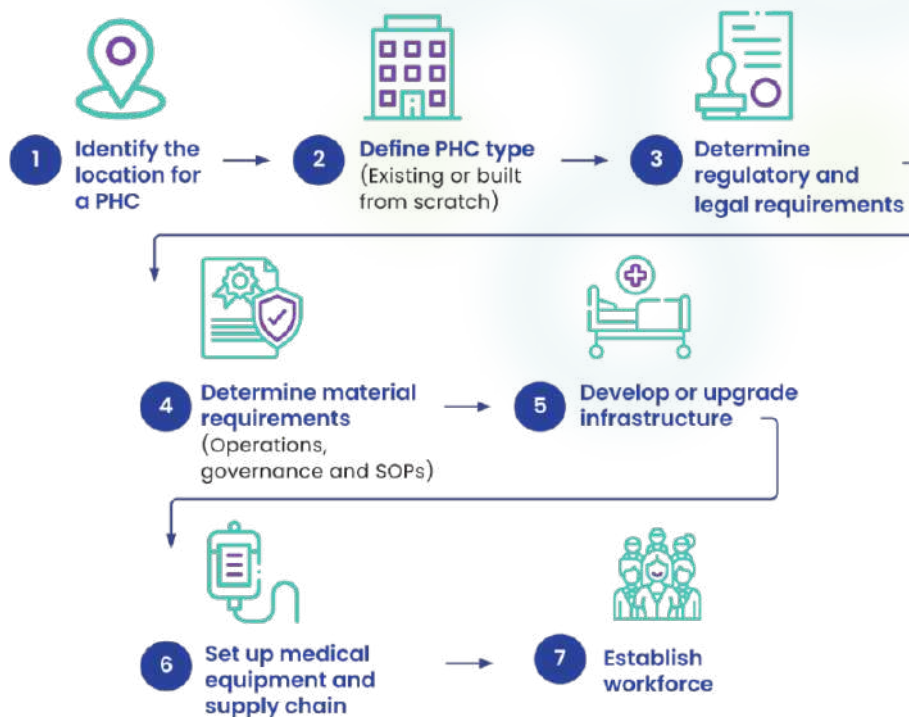

ADHFP is based on 3 main pillars:

In the face of widening socio-economic disparities and the intertwining challenges of poverty and evolving health issues, the need for a comprehensive healthcare intervention became evident.

The ADHFP was specifically designed to address the multifaceted barriers hindering access to quality healthcare services across the country. By focusing on the adoption of healthcare facilities, the program seeks to bridge the gaps in healthcare provision, ensuring that even in the most underserved areas, there is access to essential medical services.

ADHFP STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIPS

Partnering with Aig-Imoukhuede Foundation and the Edo State Government

On Monday, 20th November, 2023, the Edo State Government formalized the partnership with the Aig-Imoukhuede Foundation and Private Sector Health Alliance of Nigeria (PSHAN) by signing a memorandum of agreement with the other two parties. The primary objective of this collaboration is to enhance the resilience of the healthcare system in the state. As part of this agreement, 18 Primary Healthcare Centres (PHCs) are set to be revitalized across Edo state.

The signing ceremony was conducted in the presence of the Edo State Governor, Godwin Obaseki, who was represented by the Secretary to the Edo State Government, Osarodion Ogie Esq., Mrs Ofovwe Aig-Imoukhuede, Executive Vice Chair, Aig- Imoukhuede Foundation and Dr. Tinuola Akinbolagbe, MD/CEO of the Private Sector Health Alliance of Nigeria (PSHAN).

With this collaboration, PSHAN is poised to implement and accelerate improvement in health outcomes for the people of Edo state which is a stepping stone towards the goal of achieving equitable and affordable healthcare for all Nigerians.

Partnering with HOW Foundation and the Rivers State Government

The HOW Foundation, guided by the visionary leadership of its Chairman, Dr. Herbert Wigwe, C.F.R., took on a transformative initiative by adopting 25 Primary Healthcare Centres (PHCs) in Rivers State. This strategic move signifies a profound commitment to addressing the critical challenges faced by the healthcare system in the state, with a primary focus on enhancing access and affordability. In collaboration with Rivers State PHCDA, MoH, Local Government, and other relevant agencies, product papers detailing steps towards the PHC revitalization were presented to Rivers State stakeholders and signed. Additional collaborative efforts involve teaming up with the MTN Foundation to rejuvenate 52 Primary Healthcare Centres (PHCs) and partnering with IHS Towers to revitalize 6 PHCs.

Following the MoU signings, an in-depth assessment was conducted for the selected PHCs. This thorough evaluation aimed to determine the extent of renovation required, assess disease burden, and evaluate stock levels. The assessment process involved the meticulous preparation of a comprehensive Inventory List, Drug Quantification, Renovation Drawings, Assets inventory, and Bill of Quantities for each facility. Subsequently, essential steps were taken to prepare an indispensable drug list based on historical records and a Bill of Quantity aligned with the scope of work and on-site inspections from all assessed facilities. An Invitation to Tender (ITT) was then published, encouraging eligible contractors to apply for the renovation of the identified PHCs.

The ITT process saw eligible contractors submitting their applications, leading to the establishment of a structured selection process for the preferred contractor. Rigorous reviews of contractor submissions were undertaken to identify the most suitable candidate capable of delivering in accordance with standard requirements. In parallel, another Invitation to Tender was issued, this time targeting eligible Medical Equipment suppliers. They were encouraged to apply for the supply of medical equipment, fittings, and furnishings for the revitalized PHCs.

The tendering process ensured the involvement of qualified suppliers capable of meeting the healthcare infrastructure requirements. Additionally, community engagement initiatives were implemented to raise awareness, particularly at the grassroots level. These efforts sought to involve and inform local communities about the ongoing revitalization projects, fostering a sense of ownership and understanding of the positive impact on their healthcare facilities.
